
“RAZZISTA, IO?!”

Review by Francesco Pontrelli

Plot

The short film “Razzista io?!” by Giuseppe Massarelli talks about a group of Italian people emigrated in 1960-1970 in Germany and in Switzerland that, as adults, returned in Italy. They would like to improve their knowledge so they start to follow an evening school course where they compared their experiences with foreign migrants.

What did I understand?

Thanks to this short film I understood that each of us is a foreigner for somebody else; so it's very important that each person feel equal to others.
